ABOUT ME

I am a Senior Lecturer in I.T. at the University of KwaZulu-Natal and the only certified True Colors facilitator in South Africa. My passion, research and expertise, is in the use of innovative approaches to learning and communication. I speak regularly at international conferences and locally I am actively involved in outreach work through the Community Outreach Program Trust.

From Ag Shame to Ayoba, from Wors to Vuvuzela we are a nation of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and languages - yet when we unite, when we understand and celebrate our unique diversities, we have the power to achieve the impossible. One US journalist marveling at experiencing Ubuntu said, "As the 2010 Cup slogan goes, 'Feel it, it is here'. Well I have felt it, because I am here." And now it is our time as South Africans to not only Feel It, but Live it, because we are STILL here!

"Fly Your Colors" is an entertaining but highly valuable workshop based on the True Colors Communication model developed by Dr. Keirseay of the USA. Using colours as a metaphor, this participative workshop equips people with a simple yet powerful tool for both personal and professional life.

"Knowing yourself is the beginning of all wisdom", said Aristotle. The "Fly Your Colors" workshop provides participants with an easy, entertaining way to begin to understand themselves and others. Knowing our own strengths and weaknesses and being able to recognise this in others is key to successful professional and personal relationships.

South Africa has proved to the world we can deliver. We have proved that united we can astound the world. It's time to Live the Feeling, It's time to Fly our Colours proudly.

Warning:
This workshop MAY change your life!
